

COURSE CODE – 2020307
PG DEGREE EXAMINATION- JAN 2009
MSW

SOCIAL WORK PRACTICES WITH INDIVIDUAL AND GROUPS

(For the Candidates Admitted from Calendar Year 2007)

Time: 3 hours

Max. Marks 75

Section-A

Answer All Questions:

15X1=15

1. Define social case work
2. State the limitations of case work practice.
3. Who is a delinquent?
4. What is disaster management?
5. What do you mean by social group work?
6. Identify the problems of adolescents.
7. Mention of objectives of social group work.
8. Differentiate social case work from social group work.
9. Give an account of crisis intervention.
10. Clarify the concept of Rapport.
11. What are the limitations of group work practice
12. Highlight the importance of collateral contacts in group work.
13. How does group work differ from recreation?
14. Point out the meaning of transitional groups.
15. Write a note on Home visits.

Section – B

Answer any Five Questions:

5X6=30

16. a. Mention the methods employed in working for children welfare

(Or)

- b. Briefly explain the social work strategies for adolescents and adults.

17. a. Highlight the principle and ethical considerations in recording grievances of the clients.

(Or)

- b. “Juvenile Delinquents are in need of emotional care”. - Comment

18. a. Write a note on the Transactional analysis.

(Or)

- b. Give an account of behavioural theory.

19. a. Point out the importance of case work counseling.

(Or)

- b. State the features of working with the physically disabled.

20. a. Bringout the importance of psycho-social therapy

(Or)

- b. Narrate the significance of counseling to sort out marital problems.

Section – C

Answer any Two Questions:

2X15=30

21. Describe the social, cultural factors influencing the case work practice and the merits of case work practice.
22. Write an essay on crisis theory and crisis intervention.
23. Explain the basic assumption and philosophies underlying social group work.
24. Critically examine the problems and prospects of disaster management.
25. Elucidate the unique features of various social work practices with individuals and groups.